Highway work proceeds, some beer distributed

Striking members of the Teamsters Union employed on the Maryville Road project returned to their jobs today, but operations of beer and liquor distributors in the Quad-City area were hampered on a partial basis as the result of a strike that began last week over failure to reach a new work agreement.

At the same time, however, a threatened statewide strike of teamsters employed on major highway construction jobs failed to materialize in a dispute between the Illinois Conference of Teamsters and the Associated General Contractors.

That dispute is being according to the Southern Illinois Builders Association at Belleville would have no immediate effect on this area.

Wayne Barber, executive director of the SIBA, told the Press-Record this morning that all contracts with unions whose members work on highway construction were signed prior contract expiration. Barber said those contracts cover union workers in 39 counties of the SIBA district which includes all territory south of Springfield.

"We have our own contracts in this district and a strike by union members hired by contractors of the Associated General Contractors would not interfere with operations in the SIBA area," Barber said.

The Maryville Road project which will extend the roadway from Ponton Road to Highway 162 was shut down last week when teamster members left their jobs in what first was described as a jurisdictional dispute.

A spokesman of the Hoeffken Bros. Contractors of Belleville which is doing the work, said this morning that "We actually don't know why they left the job. It was a wildcat walkout and we got it straightened out over the weekend."

Work on the new four-lane highway was in full swing today and the spokesman said the paving work is scheduled to get under way Thursday with the pouring of concrete at the south end of the roadway where it will join Highway 162.

Tim Burns, business representative of Teamsters Local 525 at Alton, confirmed that the workers had returned to the Maryville Road project.

Toffant in sheriff race

(Twelfth in a series on politics in Madison County)

After declining earlier suggestions that he run for sheriff, while he was still associated with the Illinois State Police, retired District Commander Emil J. Toffant, threw his hat in the political ring during the weekend.

Once a Madison city policeman, Toffant will campaign as an independent for the Democratic nomination as Madison County sheriff in the March 1978 primary election.

A potential opponent is a fellow Madisonian, Sheriff John Maeras.

Maeras traditionally has run with the help of most Democratic committeemen.

Toffant says he won't appear before any screening committees if that is necessary to get such backing.

It is believed possible that the Democratic Central Committee might back Toffant without an appearance, perhaps supporting Maeras for county treasurer, an office he once held.

While never a candidate for public office, Toffant, 62, is considered a major candidate because of his record in law enforcement.

A member of the Madison police department from 1944 to 1950, he left to join the state police. As a lieutenant in 1959, he organized and led a detective section that became the Bureau of Special Investigation.

Toffant retired in 1974 after serving for 14 years as commanding officer of ten-county State Police District 11, with headquarters at Maryville. The period was marked by numerous gambling and vice arrests.

Secretary and past president of the Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission, he holds 42 commendations and has served on numerous advisory committees and merit boards.

His assignments have included cooperation with the former Kefauver and McClelland-Kennedy crime committees.

He and his wife, Bess, have two daughters, Mrs. Thomas (Emily) Thebeau of Granite City and Miss Nancy Toffant of Dallas, and two grandsons.

A former American Steel Foundries employee, he said he initially was asked this year to consider a sheriff candidacy by several police chiefs. He later agreed to run in return for backing by independent Democrats.

Offers of Republican backing were rejected because he is a Democrat.

Toffant calls screening and slating "undemocratic and against my personal beliefs in an open primary."

"In a democratic society, power to nominate candidates rests with the people, but only if they participate. I will appeal for the support of each committeeman and woman and all voters in every precinct."

"As a career police officer, and lifelong resident of Madison County, I am motivated by a desire to continue to be of service to the community in the field of law enforcement."

SUCCESSFUL CONCLUSION of a police investigation. Granite City Police Detective Don Knight, left, Officer Glenn Wright, center, and Detective Dennis Joyce, right, wait for a truck to haul away an estimated $10,000 in office equipment stolen in Huntingdon, Tenn., and found in the basement at 2207a Grand Ave. late Thursday afternoon. Police locate office machines

Alert police work Thursday by Granite City officers resulted in the recovery of an estimated $10,000 in office equipment, stolen in Tennessee, and the recapture of an escaped prisoner being sought for the past 11 months by the Tennessee Department of Corrections.

Following information received that some type of unusual machinery was housed in the basement at 2207a Grand Ave., Detective Sergeant Donald Knight, accompanied by Detectives Tony Eck and Dennis Joyce and Officers Glenn Wright and J. W. Apperson, went to the residence.

Five people were seated around a table smoking and a plastic bag filled with smoking material was on the table, authorities said.

Through a basement window, pieces of equipment were visible.

Consent to search the premises was sought from the occupant, Miss Roseann Young, 18, of 2207a Grand Ave., but she declined, it was alleged.

Police were able to enter the building because of a "common entrance" leading into the premises, and after gaining permission from the landlord.

The five were taken into custody on the initial raid at 12:40 p.m. Thursday, and the building was placed under surveillance until a search warrant was obtained.

At 6:30 p.m. Thursday, the officers returned to the premises and found in the basement a quantity of equipment, including a 3100

New hearings on Alton dam issue

A new round of hearings is beginning today in Washington on the proposed construction of new lock and dam facilities two miles south of the present Alton Locks and Dam 26 in the Mississippi River here. Estimated cost of the project is $421 million.

The House of Representatives has decided to hold full-scale deliberations, said to jeopardize prompt Congressional action on a new dam and a 1,200-foot locks.

The Senate authorized the work June 22, provided that Secretary of Transportation Brock Adams developed by January 1979 a system of inland waterway user fees.

The fee plan, a first in the nation's history, is supported by President Jimmy Carter, who has said that otherwise he will veto Alton lock-dam replacement.

House Democratic leaders have indicated they will support user fees, as a means of trying to salvage the Alton project.

Congressmen could have accepted the Senate action through a conference committee meeting; the Senate had added the fee proposal to a bill already approved by the House.

Instead, the House will undertake full consideration of all issues by its own committees. The Subcommittee on Water Resources today will consider the legislation's first section, providing $421 million, and the third portion, directing the U. S. to make a comprehensive study of user fees and their impact on waterway traffic and users.

The fee concept will be the topic of Ways and Means Committee hearings Thursday and Friday.

Mary Kane of the county office and Supervisor Harold Davis and other Nameoki Township officials will confer, and members of the public will have an opportunity to ask questions and voice opinions. The bus-type vehicle is to be used to help senior citizens make various trips, and Davis also is hopeful that programs can be devised for veterans, aid

Farm families voicing views on varied issues

Viewpoints of Illinois farm families on a wide range of agricultural and public issues are being sought this summer and fall in every county of the state.

The grassroots opinion poll is part of an annual Illinois Farm Bureau program to develop policies that will guide the organization in the coming year.

The "viewpoint program" is designed to give members of Farm Bureau families ample opportunity to express their views on issues of concern to them. The process leads to formulating organization policies to be adopted by the Illinois Farm Bureau and its 97 local units.

The IFB annual meeting, resolutions adopted on state matters become the organization's guide for programs and services for the coming year.

Those resolutions dealing with national matters will be the IFB's recommendations to the American Farm Bureau Federation for the establishment of national policies to be adopted by AFBF voting delegates. The AFBF annual meeting will be held Jan. 8-12, 1978, in Houston, Tex.

County and bi-county Farm Bureaus are responsible for developing the organization's policies on local matters. They recommend policy positions on state and national matters for possible adoption by the state Farm Bureau.

At the IFB annual meeting, resolutions adopted on state matters become the organization's guide for programs and services for the coming year.

The committee, chaired by IFB Vice President John White Jr. of Elburn, is comprised of 18 county Farm Bureau presidents, four IFB directors including White, and representatives of the IFB's Women's Committee, Young Farmers Committee and Marketing and Commodity Advisory Committee.

The committee met this month to begin sifting through

DeMolays to receive Degree of Chevalier

James S. Boyd and Robert C. DeCourcy, members of James Stuart Chapter DeMolay, were elected to receive the Degree of Chevalier by the International Supreme Council Order of DeMolay at its annual session in Dearborn, Mich.

James Boyd, a past master counselor of the local chapter, is the son of Mrs. Mildred P. Boyd, 3001 Dale Ave., and the late James O. Boyd. He is a 1975 graduate of Granite City Senior High South. He is a junior at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, majoring in history. He chaired the float committee for the chapter's entry in the city's bi-centennial parade.

Robert DeCourcy, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. DeCourcy, Jr., 2875 Iowa St., is a 1977 graduate of Granite City Senior High South. Bob is to report at Lackland AFB, Tex., on Aug. 29, where he will become a member of the United States Air Force. While at South High he was a member of the marching and concert bands and a member of the DeMolay brass band which performed at Shriner's Hospital for Crippled Children in St. Louis. He was active in the youth groups and choir at the First United Presbyterian Church, where he is a member and a deacon. Bob is a past master counselor of James Stuart Chapter, completed the Leadership Correspondence Course and attended the International's 1976 Leadership Conference at Potomac, Md.

Boyd and DeCourcy will be conferred with the degree at a Chevalier investiture at 2 p.m. Sunday, July 24, at Ainslie Temple, 609 St. Louis Ave., E. St. Louis. Ainslie's DeMolay Unit will confer the degree upon designates from Southern Illinois. The event is open to the public and refreshments will be served after the investiture. Parking will be inside the temple's fenced parking lot and will be handled by the Ainslie Temple Provost Guard.

The Degree of Chevalier is the highest honorary degree that an active DeMolay can receive. The degree is a citation for outstanding and marked DeMolay activity and labor and granted by the International Supreme Council upon recommendation by the chapter's advisory council and the executive officer of Illinois. It cannot be applied for and the nomination is made without the knowledge of the DeMolay who is honored.

The Order of DeMolay is an international organization for young men 13 to 21 years of age which is dedicated to the principles of building better citizens. Its active and senior members number nearly 3,000,000. The local James Stuart Chapter meets at the Masonic Temple, 20th Street and Cleveland Boulevard, on the first and third Tuesdays, one of the 2,300 chapters in the United States and 11 other countries.

Ozark Daredevils, 'Streetcar,' Jazz, Harmony at River Festival

The Concord Jazz Festival, Barbershop Harmony Night and two evenings of rock music are among the activities in the span of time beginning Wednesday at the Mississippi River Festival, held on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The Ozark Mountain Daredevils, with special guest Jimmy Buffet, will open the week on Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. at the Festival site.

The Daredevils are known as one of the top country rock groups in the nation, although the group's music also ranges widely away from that one particular style.

With hits like "Jackie Blue" and "If You Want to Get to Heaven," the Daredevils have established a reputation as a group that can easily deliver the kind of music their rustic name promises, but still manage to delve into other rock styles with equal ease and ability.

Jimmy Buffet, opening the evening for the Daredevils, has suddenly "happened" upon the rock scene after years of club success building his own blend of reggae, calypso, and folk music. "Margaretville" is one of his current hits.

On Thursday, at 7:30 p.m., "A Streetcar Named Desire" plays at Meridian Hall in the SIUE campus' University Center as the fourth film in the Festival Film Series. The Tennessee Williams classic stars Marlon Brando as Stanley Kowalski, who torments and destroys Stella, portrayed by Vivien Leigh. Admission to all films in the series is by donation.

The Concord Jazz Festival comes to the Festival site on Friday, July 22, at 8:30 p.m. with a long list of jazz greats. The L.A. Four with Laurindo Almeida, Ray Brown, Shelly Manne and Bud Shank, plus Herb Ellis and Barney Kessel. Plus Johnson with Hank Jones and Ernestine Anderson all will be performing during an evening expected to be one of the jazz highlights of the past few years for the St. Louis area and Southern Illinois.

On Saturday, July 23, at 8:30 p.m., Barbershop Harmony Night returns to the River Festival following the success of past years. This season's show includes The Southern Gateway Chorus, The Front Office Four and The Roaring 20's.

The Chamber Music Series continues on Monday, July 25, at 8:30 p.m. highlighted by the premier of SIUE faculty member James Woodard's "Fantasies for Flute and String Quartet." The Chamber Series is held in Meridian Hall.

Renaissance, a rock group that focuses on classically influenced contemporary music, appears Wednesday, July 27. With the release of a new album, "Novella," and headline appearances at sites like the Mississippi River Festival, Renaissance is capping a three-year rise to stardom in which the group has become the acknowledged leader of a rock style described as both singular and effective.

Jean-Luc Ponty shares the July 23 evening at 8:30 with Renaissance, bringing his background in classical, jazz and rock music to the Festival site. Ponty, a violinist, was first successful in classical music, playing three years for the Lamoureux Symphony Orchestra in France.

Then he moved to jazz, where his skill and style earned him a reputation shared in France only by the legendary French jazz masters Stephane Grappelli and Django Reinhardt. Finally, in rock, he shared success with Frank Zappa and the Mothers of Invention as well as the Mahavishnu Orchestra and others before going solo.

Festival Director Lyle Ward is reminding Festival patrons that alcohol and glass containers are prohibited at the Festival site.

Evers heads state Telephone Pioneers

Kenneth L. Evers, Illinois Bell Telephone manager in Granite City, has been elected Illinois state president of the Telephone Pioneers of America.

The Pioneers, known as the Theodore N. Vail Chapter, is named after the Bell System's principal developer. It consists of 5,000 members.

To be eligible for membership, an employee must have worked for the Bell System 18 years or more.

Evers, who was Illinois Bell manager in Edwardsville for many years before assuming his duties as Granite City Manager two years ago, characterizes the Pioneers as an organization dedicated to helping others.

"Pioneers," he explained, "have been traditionally sensitive to the needs of others — particularly the underprivileged — since the organization was founded in Boston in 1911. The Pioneers are devoted to serving people."

This service, in the State of Illinois Chapter, takes the form of some unique programs. Included in these are such things as the activities of the Cuhokia Council of the Pioneers in this area; it works through station WMMY in Belleville to supply and maintain radios for the visually handicapped.

The radios are tuned to the special Talking Books station, with programming designed specifically for unsighted or visually handicapped persons.

In the Delta Council in the Alton area, the Pioneers have created a special version of "Pioneer Pete" known as the "Delta Tiger," a stuffed animal equipped electronically so that the eyes flash when the toy is voice-activated.

It is used to help deaf children develop their capacity for speech, since the toy will "vibrate" when the proper voice level is maintained.

Like the inventor of the telephone, Alexander Graham Bell, who was a teacher of the deaf, the Pioneers seem to be able to use their electronic know-how to help persons with visual or hearing handicaps.

Another useful item is the Bejeed probe, a light sensitive pencil-like device which, coupled with a beep-emitting earphone, can aid the blind in identifying a "ringing" telephone by the light flashing on the telephone's light buttons.

The Pioneers, half-million strong nationwide, are also the developers of ball teams and leagues for blind and visually handicapped children.

A special ball is used which gives a continuous electronic "beep" so that the batter swings by use of sound, not sight. This game has come to be known as "Pioneer Ball."

Evers, who has also been active in Rotary, United Way and Chamber of Commerce activities, to name a few, says that the Pioneers have a busy schedule planned for the coming year.

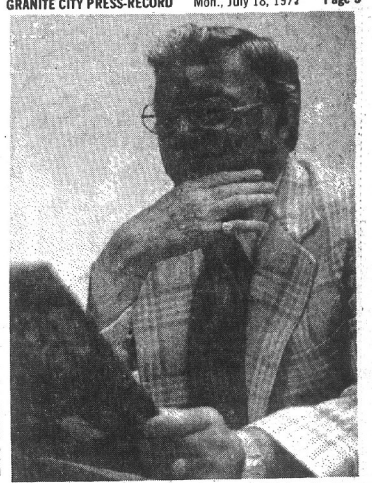

"We will continue with the projects we already have on the books," he said.

But we also intend to begin working with the state of Illinois to help persons who are having hearing difficulties obtain the testing and help, necessary to determine the extent of their needs and the type of aid necessary to correct it."

Pioneers quickly say that the tradition of service that they carry on in their activities is one which they feel expresses a tradition which has been part of the telephone industry for generations.

To help preserve the story of that tradition, the Pioneers have obtained and given copies of "The Telephone Book: Bell, Watson, Vail and American Life, 1876-1976" by H. M. "Hank" Boettinger, to school and other libraries throughout the state.

In addition to the projects carried out in the ten Downstate councils, Evers will also coordinate activities with

News notes

Illinois Agriculture Director John R. Block on Thursday called "inappropriate" remarks by U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland in which he said that soybeans are on the way to "more reasonable prices" in the four to six dollar range. "I don't think it is appropriate for the secretary to suggest that four to six dollar beans are what we should have," Block said. "As far as I am concerned there is nothing wrong with seven or eight dollar soybeans." Block said.

A computer that can understand and "speak" human words will soon begin cutting the state's phone bill. The Illinois Department of Administrative Services is having the first-of-its-kind computer system installed to screen phone calls charged to state telephone credit cards. Such calls are placed by state employees who must conduct official business while away from their offices. DAS officials expect the new system to save the state government $16,000 monthly.

The total value of all business conducted in Illinois (gross state product) is expected to exceed $100 billion this year, according to estimates released by the Illinois Department of Business and Economic Development (BED), based on the state's productivity during the first three months of 1977.

Child care administrators from throughout Illinois have formed a working group to develop cooperative approaches to the state's child welfare issues. Formation of the group, called the Committee of 30, was announced Thursday by Margaret Kennedy, director of the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services, and Muriel Whitaker, executive director of the Child Care Association of Illinois. The group will meet weekly through August in Springfield and Chicago.

An estimated 14,500,000 Americans suffer from some form of hearing impairment. The Illinois Department of Public Health, which oversees hearing tests of the state's school children, offers a free brochure called "Hearing Aids—What, Who, When, Where" to assist persons who think they may have hearing problems. For a free copy, Quad-Cityans may write to the IDPH, Hearing Division, Springfield 62761.

A new campground with 40 gravel pads and 15 walk-in tent camping sites will open today at Fox Ridge State Park south of Charleston in Coles County. For full information on any Illinois state park or campground, local residents may write the Department of Conservation, Education and Information Division, 602 State Office Building, Springfield 62766.

Illinois, with 37 ozone monitors and a daily atmospheric ozone bulletin, is recognized as having the most extensive ozone monitoring and reporting system in the nation, according to the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, which administers the program.

The Madison County Board at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday will consider accepting a $41,765 bid from the General Elevator Engineering Co. for installation of a new self-service Courthouse elevator; specifications went to three firms but only one bid was received. The board also is expected to seek an Economic Development Administration grant for a $371,000 renovation to add two new courtrooms on the third floor and move the chief judge's office to the fourth floor.

Mrs. Ruth Ann Stanton, a Lake Drive resident who underwent open heart surgery last week in St. Louis, is continuing to improve and hopes to return home in a few days.

House Democrats and the President will seek to change the $2.30 minimum hourly wage to $2.65, with a six-year phaseout of credit for tips received by restaurant workers.

A new Missouri state prison is to be built in the St. Louis area. Fifteen counties have voiced interest in being the site of a new Illinois prison.

State employees voting on their first union contract approved by a 9-1 margin a plan linking their raises to Illinois state revenue increases.

The four Granite City banks are collection points for Chouteau, Nameoki and Granite City property taxes and the Madison bank is a collection place for Venice Township taxes.

Lakes sampled on level of pollution

One hundred and fifteen lakes throughout the state are being sampled in the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency's clean water planning program to show where the most severe pollution problems exist.

In Madison County, the selected sites are Highland's Silver Lake and the Holiday Shores Lake.

The lakes, both state-owned and public over 100 acres, will be ranked for future restoration or protection. The information will be part of IEPA's state plan to control water pollutants from agricultural lands, urban areas, construction sites and mining areas.

Tests are being run to determine the amount of dissolved oxygen present to sustain aquatic life in the lakes. Nutrients from urban areas, farmsteads, sewage or natural fertility in the lakebed can rob oxygen from the water by fostering excess plant growth and decay.

Acidity (pH) tests will show whether mine drainage is affecting water quality. Alkalinity levels, a buffer against excess acidic conditions, are being checked to determine lakes' abilities to tolerate changes in acid content.

Light penetration below the lake surface is also being measured. Excess sediment in the water can impede plant growth by limiting light penetration.

Crowd sought for display at new convention center

By EDWARD F. REISKE
Executive Vice-President
Tri-Cities Area
Chamber of Commerce

Never again will the Tri-Cities Area have a better opportunity to show its stuff than on July 31, at the St. Louis Convention Center.

We have been invited to set up a display there, and we have gone all-out to make it attractive and representative. The cooperation we are receiving from industry, business and volunteers is something to brag about.

Business and industry have been generous in furnishing the money to make up the cost of the display. Volunteers are ready and willing.

Much extra credit is due Eugene Alassi for his tireless efforts, long hours and frustrations in designing and coordinating the show. It is going to be something that every Tri-Cityan will be proud of, and everyone in the Tri-Cities area should attend for at least part of the day.

The display will be set up by 9 a.m. Sunday, July 31, and will consist of a 50-foot billboard with pictures that will show what the Tri-Cities area is made of.

Certainly, just looking at the billboard is going to convince an awful lot of people—they tell us they expect 10,000 to 15,000 people that day—but the people who live in the Great American Bottoms do not have webbed feet.

It is going to convince a lot of people that here is where the good jobs are because of the concentration of industry. It will dramatically show something about the wealth of this area because of the concentration of large financial institutions.

It will also show the culture, the spirit, the modern flavor and the great future of the Tri-Cities area because of all the important elements we have—the tremendous asset of the Tri-City Port Authority, and the unmatched transportation in the way of highways, railroads, truck terminals—everything industry and commerce needs for current prosperity and future growth.

We will also show the heavy concentration of skilled labor in the area.

Recently, contractors who have had large jobs in the area have indicated that they find construction labor more productive here than anywhere else they have operated.

The president of a large national corporation has been vocal in praising the unusually good and cooperative labor relations in the area as compared to other towns where they operate plants.

Schools and churches will be featured, along with parks and other recreational facilities. High school bands will furnish entertainment. Dal Maxwell will be there to greet old friends.

At 1 p.m., our display and civic leaders will be on TV. Nothing has been left undone to make it a gala, most effective display.

But there is still an awful lot of work to be done, and anyone who has time to volunteer will certainly be welcome. Come what may, however, the job will be finished, and the display delivered and set up on time Sunday morning, July 31.

Agriculture—and we have some of the finest in this area—will also be featured.

A continuous running, sound, slide presentation furnished and operated by the University of Illinois will feature this area's agriculture, along with 4-H accomplishments, and that will be an outstanding attraction.

This is our opportunity to put our best foot forward and leave a lasting impression of an area that has been here a long time—an excellent place to live and earn a living—not a Johnny-come-lately dying entity, but a strong, vigorous, growing industrialized area, with everything to offer for good, clean, wholesome living.

For those of us who attend from the Tri-Cities area, it is also going to be a great opportunity to tour the marvelous new convention center. You can scarcely imagine the size without walking through it. It is probably the biggest thing you have ever seen—it would hold a lot of hay, or house a big herd of elephants.

It is huge, beautifully constructed, an engineering masterpiece, and represents tremendous foresight on the part of St. Louis, responsible for planning, financing and constructing it.

Certainly, it is worth your time just to tour this great edifice, but we want you to spend time at the Granite City booth. Meet and visit with your friends there, contribute to the large crowd that is expected, and show our appreciation for being invited to participate in this grand opening event of St. Louis' biggest, newest, finest downtown center.

Above all, this is going to be an opportunity to create a good feeling and cement relations between St. Louis and the Tri-Cities area, provided we get a good attendance of Tri-Cities area people to visit the display and tour the center.

Say it anyway you like, bricks and mortar, good architecture, nice displays, good music—all contribute to the effectiveness of the day. But there is nothing, absolutely nothing, that compares to or displaces people when it comes to public relations. No city will ever find a good place on the map without good people.

We want to make sure that we create a good, friendly atmosphere around our display, well populated and attended by the good people of the Tri-Cities area.

So, the order of the day is: Take a few hours to attend, get better acquainted, and make a favorable appearance at the Convention Center for the Tri-Cities area of Illinois.

University to stress hiring of handicapped

Sally J. Page, the first affirmative action officer for women at SIUE and coordinator of the university's Affirmative Action Office for general counsel, has accepted a similar position with the University of North Dakota at Grand Forks.

In addition to being affirmative action officer, she will have teaching responsibilities in the College of Business at North Dakota. She is scheduled to report to her new assignment Aug. 1.

SIUE President Kenneth A. Shaw said he is "grateful for Sally's good and loyal service to the university and adherence to the principles of affirmative action. She is a person of conviction, and I know she will be successful in her new challenge."

Reaffirming the "strong commitment" he made to affirmative action in his address to the university on March 3, Pres. Shaw said a search committee will be established in the near future to advise the president in the selection of a new affirmative action officer. He said the position will be reporting directly to him and it is his hope that the vacancy can be filled from within the faculty ranks.

Miss Page said her office currently is heavily involved in developing materials in compliance with federal regulations dealing with the handicapped. She has prepared an assessment of the situation as it pertains to SIUE and has written a plan for the employment of handicapped persons.

In September, she was given the responsibility by Acting President Andrew Kochman of drafting a revision of the university's affirmative action plan. The revision was completed in January and was reviewed by the University Affirmative Action Council; currently, the review is being continued by the office of the senior vice-president for planning and review.

Display art and sculpture

"We Three Kings," an exhibit of prints, sculpture and drawings by three senior art students at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, will be on display through August in the Opaki Lounge of the University Center. A reception for the artists will be held Monday, Aug. 1, at 7-3 p.m. in the Opaki.

Artists to be featured in "We Three Kings" are: Chris Dasheke of Caseyville, drawings and sculpture; Frank Riesterer of Belleville, sculpture; and Ken Blazek of Belleville, drawings and prints.

According to Blazek, the three candidates for bachelor of fine arts degrees have planned a total artistic experience for guests at the artists' reception Aug. 1. Other SIUE artists, including a group of dancers and a chamber music group, will perform. A Tai Chi Ch'uan martial arts demonstration will be presented.

Some of the artwork on display will be for sale. The reception is free and open to the public.

Madison crime statistics show June decrease

A police report submitted last week to the Madison City Council showed a decrease of major crimes by 17 per cent during June 1977 as compared to June 1976.

Assault and battery, plus burglary cases, were higher this June.

The figures, with June 1976 listed first and June 1977 second, are:

Homicide, 0-0; forcible rape, 0-0; robbery, 4-0; assault and battery, 5-7; burglary, 11-12; theft, 22-15; and auto theft, 5-5.

First Ward Alderman Robert Don Reeves said, "I would like to congratulate Police Chief Donald Bridick. I feel he is doing a fine job and I appreciate the reports he sends to the aldermen. I also want to voice my appreciation to Sgt. Norris Horton and Officer Charles Bridick for the excellent way they handled everything in the untimely death of one of our citizens."

In other action, the City Council approved a building permit for Mrs. Beatrice Stentzer, 1000 Grand Ave., for front porch construction, at an estimated cost of $1,800, and paid bills totaling $68,748 for the period of June 29 to July 12.

A check for $6,860 — the city's share of a federal anti-recession fiscal assistance fund from July through September — was received.

Action on asphalt bids was tabled until the next council meeting July 26, pending further study by the purchasing committee.

More advanced methods at unique water treatment training facility

A supplemental grant for a half-million dollars to purchase capital equipment to furnish and equip the Environmental Resources Training Center (ERTC) at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville was accepted by the SIU Board of Trustees Thursday.

The $500,000 grant from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency will not only provide capital equipment for the ERTC, but will also complete design and construction of the ERTC facility — and provide for design and construction of alterations to the existing wastewater treatment facilities to include advanced treatment methods.

James O. Bryant, director of ERTC, said the money will be used to purchase three classes of equipment for the laboratory including videotape recorders, monitors, self-study carrels and tape recorders; and — the bulk of the monies — for pilot-scale unit operations and processes equipment.

"The pilot-scale equipment will be able to simulate almost any wastewater treatment plant process used in Illinois," Bryant said.

"This hands-on teaching laboratory will allow students to experiment on pilot-scale equipment to learn actual operational procedures."

The ERTC was designed so that waters from the SIUE wastewater treatment plant can be pumped into the facility, treated with the pilot equipment and pumped back to the treatment plant before being released.

"It is because of this that we can offer training where operators can make a mistake while learning without causing any environmental upset," Bryant said.

"This equipment should bring the building to completion," he said. "There are still some things that we will be adding as time goes on."

"With the equipment procured through the supplemental grant, the ERTC will become a unique training facility because it will offer hands-on training that is not offered anywhere else in the country. This will benefit water and wastewater treatment plant operators from all areas of Illinois."

The $2 million ERTC facility is the only state center of its kind in the United States and is the focus of current national attention.

It serves as a nucleus for the development of environmental training programs for water and wastewater treatment personnel from all over the state and nation.

Honor Schweizer for growth of Foundation

The traditional comment "thanks a million" may be appropriate expression of appreciation for most people. But for Charles B. Schweizer, retiring director of the Foundation Administration Office at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, who was honored at a luncheon on campus last week, it was only two-thirds enough.

"Instead of saying, 'Thanks a million, Charles,' we should say, 'Thanks a million-and-a-half, Charles,'" said SIUE President Kenneth A. Shaw.

The president was one of several speakers who paid tribute to Schweizer, a retired U.S. Army colonel who has been associated with Foundation activities at the university since 1966.

Shaw explained that the assets of the Foundation have increased more than "a hundredfold" under Schweizer's leadership—from about $10,000 in 1966 to approximately a million-and-a-half dollars at present.

He is a retired Army colonel, having served as St. Louis district engineer and Granite City Army Depot commander.

Citing the growth of the Foundation, President Shaw said there were only two loan funds in 1966, totaling about $2,000; today there are 85 loan funds with approximately $1,250,000.

Endowments have grown from "virtually nothing" in 1966 to $150,000. And development funds, of which there were none 10 years ago, now total about $100,000.

"Apart from the money figures, there is the human element of a tremendous number of students who have received loans to assist in their education," Dr. Shaw said.

"There are the many gifts-in-kind of valuable equipment, books, music and others in which Charles has played a large part. And there are the countless friends he has made for the university and the university's message which has been carried over a large area."

The president noted that Schweizer was "a catalyst" in the formation of the Friends of Music and the Slavic and East European Friends of SIUE, "and he has been of stalwart assistance to the Friends of Lovejoy Library."

"More recently, he has assisted in the founding of a Friends of Art organization."

"Wherever help was needed, Charles Schweizer was always ready and willing to work hard at giving it," Shaw said.

The president emphasized that Schweizer actually is launching "a new career." He will continue to work with the Foundation as a part-time consultant, assisting the new director, Alfred Jans, and Jans' assistant, A. R. Howard.

Discussing future directions for the SIUE Foundation, Shaw said, "It is quite evident that current and probably future state appropriations for the university will be such that we will be hard-pressed to meet basic needs of the institution."

"Accordingly, we will have to turn more than ever to private monies to achieve that margin of excellence which a great university must have."

The president said an annual fund drive will be launched in the fall, with the goal of making grants available for talented and needy students and "to seek the funds to help make this university the best of its kind in the nation."

Other speakers at the luncheon honoring Schweizer included:

MR. AND MRS. GERALD BIGGS who were married in an afternoon ceremony at St. John Lutheran Church. The bride is the former Miss Barbara Juedemann, a daughter of Mrs. Christine Juedemann, 2426 East 24th St.

Juedemann-Biggs nuptials at St. John Lutheran

Miss Barbara Juedemann, a daughter of Mrs. Christine Juedemann, 2426 East 24th St., and Gerald Biggs, a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Biggs, 2529 Lincoln Ave., were united in marriage, on June 18, at St. John Lutheran Church.

The Rev. Samuel Boda performed a double ring ceremony at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

For her wedding the bride selected a formal length ivory Qiana gown designed with a fitted bodice, short cap sleeves, square neckline and straight skirt.

Her headpiece of ivory lace and ribbon secured a triple tiered veil of bridal illusion and she held a bouquet of yellow roses, baby's breath and greenery tied with lace and ribbon streamers.

Maid of honor Miss Linda Thompson wore a long orange Qiana dress fashioned with a slightly gathered bodice and long full skirt.

She wore a matching fluted brim hat and held a bouquet of yellow rose buds, carnations and baby's breath.

The groom chose Brian Cavanaugh as his best man. Sammy Brawley and Dave Schulman served as ushers.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the groom's parents.

The groom is employed at Granite City Steel and the former Miss Juedemann is working at the F. W. Woolworth Store.

They are residing in Granite City.

May-Carney wedding

Miss Darla F. Carney and Donald L. May Jr., were united in marriage in ceremonies conducted on July 11, in Belleville.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carney, 2438 Bryan Ave. Parents of the groom are Donald May and Mrs. Betty May, both of Granite City.

Eagles Auxiliary plan events

Mrs. Phyllis Seka, president of the Ladies Auxiliary of Eagles, announced the district meeting is scheduled to be held in Granite City on Sept. 25, during a meeting of the organization held last week at the Eagles Aerie.

Visitation reports were given by Helen Frazier and Florence Hagauer and Cathy Reed reviewed the bakeless sale project.

Plans were discussed to sell paper back books before and after the regular meetings with the proceeds to be used for the auxiliary charitable programs.

Final arrangements were announced in relation to the national convention to be held in Minneapolis, Minn. Fifteen members and the Kitchen Band, who has been invited to play at the convention, plan to attend.

Prizes were won by Nettie Koehler and Lucy Baumeier.

Refreshments were served by Lola Barlske and Anna Reed and the remainder of the evening was spent in playing games.

School sports seasons expected to be altered

For only the second time in the 80-year history of the Illinois High School Association (IHSAA), a special session of the association's Legislative Commission has been called for this afternoon to attempt to modify the recently-adopted sports seasons for the 25-sport interscholastic program.

Members of the Legislative Commission — a 17-member group which acts as the IHSAA's screening committee for proposed changes in its constitution and bylaws — will meet in the IHSAA office, Bloomington, at 1 p.m. today.

Two sessions will be conducted, the first with the commission acting as a committee of the whole, and the second a formal legislative meeting of the commission acting on a final proposal for change, to be mailed to the principals of the association's 830 member schools this evening.

At the first session, a proposal for modifications in the sports season bylaws will be presented by Dr. Joseph Sirchio, principal of Steinmetz High School, Chicago, on behalf of the IHSAA board of directors.

The proposal will seek to establish equal sports season lengths in those sports in which schools sponsor separate teams in a given sport for both boys and girls.

The proposal also will seek to shift the time frame within the school calendar for the IHSAA's 12 girls' and 11 boys' sports in a manner to allow more equal access to facilities (indoors and outdoors) throughout the coming school year.

Member school voting representatives will have the way to either vote yes or no to the proposed changes, in compliance with the association's constitution.

Ballots are scheduled to be counted Wednesday, Aug. 17 — the first day of legal practice for fall sports — and the results are to be mailed out to the membership that day.

In the event change involves the movement of a fall sport to another time frame in the school year, contracts for contests and contracts for officials in that sport would be voided by the board of directors, according to provisions of the IHSAA constitution.

Schools which sponsor a team in the sports affected, would have to reschedule contests and hire officials within the new sports season limitations. State tournament series dates would also be changed.

The special session has been called because of recent rulings by the Midwest Division of the Office for Civil Rights (OCR) that the sports season package approved by a margin of 44-22 in the annual referendum among schools last fall was in violation of Title IX of the Federal Education Act of 1972.

"The sports seasons approved by our member schools in last fall's annual referendum went into effect July 1, 1977," according to IHSAA Executive Secretary Harry Fitzhugh.

"In early December 1976, while the membership was voting on the plan, we provided OCR with a copy of the ballot proposal and asked for a review of the plan. We urged OCR (which is an adjunct of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare) to inform us of any objection to the plan if the plan violated the provisions of Title IX."

"If the plan was in violation, it would be natural for the association to modify the sports season package through its regular constitutional channels in the spring of the year."

"This would be the point of time each year when our member schools establish their sports team schedules for the coming year."

The association received a written response from OCR in a letter dated May 20, a week in advance of the close of school for more than 70 per cent of the association.

OCR's opinion was that the sports season package to be implemented 40 days later was in violation of the provisions of Title IX.

The IHSAA, according to Fitzhugh, immediately sought specific recommendations from OCR to make the package comply, and asked for a delay in the enforcement of any penalties by HEW to allow the association to implement the recommended changes offered by OCR at the annual regular meeting of the legislative commission next fall.

"We were informed at that time that it was not the responsibility of OCR to propose specific changes in our package in order that it comply with Title IX," Fitzhugh said.

"In addition, we were informed that each member school which implemented the sports seasons approved by vote of all our schools would be suggested areas in the sports season package where changes would be in compliance."

"After several meetings by representatives of the IHSAA, the Illinois Office of Education and OCR — as well as meetings by representatives of the Midwest Division of OCR with personnel of HEW in Washington — an agreement for submission of the proposal to the legislative commission on an interim basis for the 1977-78 school year was reached July 7 at a meeting in Milwaukee during the annual convention of the National Federation of State High School Associations."

"The proposal to be presented to the legislative commission by the president of the association is a proposal to the legislative commission on an interim basis for the 1977-78 school year was reached July 7 at a meeting in Milwaukee during the annual convention of the National Federation of State High School Associations."

Mitchell, Mercer divide; Vans win 2

The Music Room Vans widened their lead in Illinois Inter-City Baseball competition yesterday over the second-place Mitchell Athletic Club.

While Mitchell and Mercer split a doubleheader, the Vans won both ends of a twinnit at home over J&J Liqueur by scores of 10-0 and 12-1.

Mercer won 2-1 over Mitchell and Ron Madden's club bounced back in the second game to defeat Mercer 16-4.

In other action yesterday, Highland-Pierson won a pair from Thomas, 9-2 and 10-0, and the East Alton Brewers beat Panama twice, by scores of 6-4 and 6-3.

The Vans got 12 hits off J&J hurler Robert Daugherty enroute to winning the first contest, and then collected 13 hits off loser Dan Cook in the second game. The Vans fielded flawlessly in both contests.

Richard Schmidt scored for J&J in the fourth frame of the second game when he doubled, advanced on a groundball and went home on a ground out.

Former Madison High School baseball player Jon Henke suffered his first loss of the season in the opening game with Mercer, giving up a run in the fourth and another in the fifth to the hosts.

Mercer's fourth frame saw Bob Scott single and steal second, and Lance McCord singled.

The event victors scored in the fifth the same way, with different players, Jack Scarborough and Dave Schaake.

Mitchell's scoring came in the sixth on walks to Jim Burkhardt, Ed Pragma, Bruce Pfeiffer and Ricky Hawkes.

Mitchell turned the tables in the second contest, although allowing Mercer to score twice in the opening inning and twice again the third.

In the third frame, Mitchell scored seven runs.

Jim Kovarik singled, followed by back-to-back walks to Burkhardt and Hawkes before Brian Shires singled in two runners.

Tom Carroll reached base on an error, Pfeiffer singled in two runs and Burkhardt doubled for two more runs.

Mitchell added four runs in each of the fourth and fifth frames, and got a lone run in the sixth.

Dennis Harrington reached base on an error in Mercer's two-run first inning. A single to center by Pat Peterson left Harrington score when the ball got past the fielder. Peterson scored from third on a wild pitch.

Playoffs here Tuesday

Tri-City Post 113's Legionnaires were blanked 6-0 Thursday at Marissa and then beat Alton 9-1 on Friday. The two league contests had no effect on season champion Tri-City's position in the North Division District 22 American Legion Baseball League playoffs.

The playoffs are slated to start tomorrow at the GCHS South Diamond.

Tri-City will open the playoff competition here at 6 p.m. Tuesday against Edwardsville, and at the same time Highland will play at Alton.

Post 113, as division champion, will decide where it will play on Wednesday.

Wednesday's games have the winners' of tomorrow's two contests playing at 6 p.m., and the Tuesday losers meeting at the same starting time.

The double-elimination tournament could have additional contests on Thursday.

depending on which team wins Wednesday.

Tri-City's Conrad Champion explains that if his squad wins both Tuesday and Wednesday, and the team advances into a playoff championship game at 6 p.m. Friday.

A win tomorrow and a loss Wednesday would necessitate the local team playing again Thursday against the winner of Wednesday's second contest.

Thursday's victor would then advance into the title contest on Friday.

Marissa's win over the local squad resulted in a tie for third place between Cahokia and Marissa in the South Division, which is headed by Belleville.

Alton's loss Friday to Tri-City resulted in a North Division deadlock for second place between Alton and Highland, both with 11-8 records.

Edwardsville is even at 9-9 after cancelling a contest here with Glen Carbon Post 435 last week.

Elden Warfield improved his record to 4-0 in league competition, yielding Alton only three hits and a sixth-inning run.

Tri-City, now with a 14-3 record, scored in the first inning on singles by Tom Hennrich, Kirk Champion and Paul Evans.

Two innings later, Post 113 tallied five runs on singles by Hennrich and Randy Smith, a walk to Champion, a single by Evans, a walk to Mike Clark and singles by Dan Schaus and Joe Parente.

A run was scored by Tri-City in the fifth as Warfield reached on an error, Schaus sacrificed and an infielder threw out Parente at first.

Warfield provided a sacrifice fly in the next frame to allow Evans to score after Champion had singled, both Evans and Clark had walked and Larry Heagy had forced in a run when hit by a pitch.

Gibson wins but loses

Granite Cityman Les Gibson won and then lost Saturday night in sportsman division competition at Tri-City Speedway.

Gibson, 12th in the point standings heading into the weekend stock car racing program, won the division's feature race handily over Bill Ried of St. Charles, Mo., on the quarter-mile track.

But an official's check of the top six finishing cars revealed Gibson's race car did not conform to Gateway Auto Racing Association established regulations, resulting in the Granite City driver yielding his first-place finish to Ried and also in forfeiting all points earned so far this season.

With Spalding of Pontoon Beach regained the point lead in late model standings with a runnerup finish behind main event victor Bill Myers after Russ Wallace mishap Wallace, who had wrestled the top position from Spalding two race dates ago, crashed into a dirt mound and was unable to finish the event Saturday.

Other late model division race victors were: Spalding, Wallace, Myers and Willie Johnston, heat races; Myers a handicap event; and Walt Krummel a semifinal race.

but would not elaborate on the cause of the strike.

He said the strike involved neither a jurisdictional matter nor a contract dispute. While SIDA officials maintain that the strike against the Associated General Contractors in the northern part of the state will not affect the status of union contracts in this region, Burns notes a statewide strike by the Illinois Conference of Teamsters could have an effect in the SIDA district in cases where contractors of the SIDA region also are associated with the Associated General Contractors.

Beer and liquor deliveries were on an uncertain basis in the Quad-City area today as a result of a strike against 12 distributors by the Alton Teamsters Local 525.

In addition to Madison County distributors, firms in Macomb, Macon, Calhoun, Green and Jersey counties have been hit by the strike.

A spokesman at the teamsters office in Alton said that firms which have signed contracts separately are still operating, but those who have not are not making any deliveries.

In the Quad-City area, one of the area's two major distributors, Kacer Distributing Co. at 13th Street and Grand Avenue, was being picketed this morning and was making no deliveries.

The other area distributor, Vesco, Inc., at Route 111 and State Aid 35, has signed a contract and was operating today.

It was reported that some deliveries in this area also are being made by East St. Louis distributors whose teamster employees work out of the East St. Louis local.

Issues in the strike involve wages and working conditions. The Alton office of Local 525 said information concerning the strike against beer and liquor distributors would have to be obtained from the Business Representative Robert Spann who was reported in Springfield today.

Delay payment of Pontoon street job

The Pontoon Beach Village Board agreed to Thursday night without payment amounting to more than $15,000 after expressing its discontent with work done on village streets by the Nameoki Township Highway Department.

Last month it was agreed that the township's highway department, headed by Frank Mehelic, would perform all street and road work for Pontoon Village with payment for the services to come from village receipts of motor fuel tax funds.

The board instructed Village Mayor Floyd David Moss during Thursday night's meeting to notify Mehelic in writing the board's decision to withhold payment, after hearing allegations that some roads were improperly prepared for resurfacing and that gravel was put down without oiling.

Mehelic, who did not attend the meeting, explained that proper procedures for resurfacing involves spreading a primer solution after the roadway has been swept clean, applying an oil base and then spreading gravel on top.

"What happened," said Mehelic, "is that our supplier (Piasa Oil of Wood River) delivered the oil but failed to bring some 2,000 gallons of primer."

He said the gravel chips is purchased from Lippond and Arnett of Carlinville.

"My men will redo the streets in dispute," added Mehelic, "at no additional cost to the village."

He said three streets were involved — East Lake Drive, North Drive and Kaseberg Lane.

Speakers on job expansion

A speakers' bureau has been formed by the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce to speak out on the need for economic growth and job creation in Illinois.

Members of the speakers' bureau include leaders from business, education and government who are offering their time and experience to appear before civic, fraternal and social organizations.

"The story of how new jobs come about, why economic growth is important to all of us, and what the public can do to insure that future jobs will be created has received all too little public discussion," Lester W. Brann Jr., president of the 19-600-member statewide business organization, commented.

"This speakers' bureau will help correct public misconceptions and start some valuable dialogue on a timely and important topic."

Trustees will await bargaining legislation

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees voted Thursday to continue its position of waiting for enabling legislation by the Illinois Assembly before taking steps toward allowing faculty collective bargaining on SIU campuses.

In an eight-to-one vote of the trustees in their meeting at Springfield, a motion by Trustee Margaret Blackshere of Madison failed to pass. The motion was to reverse the board's earlier decision to wait for enabling legislation and to allow a collective bargaining referendum for SIU. The motion did not define how the referendum would be conducted.

The vote by the trustees climaxed a two-and-one-half-hour public discussion of collective bargaining, with opinions being expressed by 17 representatives of organizations, constituency representatives, students, administrators, the university presidents and individuals, as well as members of the board. Of the 17 speakers outside the Board of Trustees, nine spoke in opposition to collective bargaining or to the consideration of collective bargaining before enabling legislation has been provided. President Warren W. Brandt of SIU at Carbondale and two of his administrators, Vice President for Academic Affairs Frank Horton and Dean Richard Moy of the SIU School of Medicine, were among those who expressed opposition to collective bargaining without enabling legislation.

President Kenneth A. Shaw of SIUE took a neutral position on the subject of collective bargaining but said he believes the majority of the faculty at the local campus want the university to resolve the issue by expressing a choice.

He also said he believes the question should be considered separately on each campus, and he said guidelines for procedures should be developed with constituency input. David Valley, president of the University Senate at SIUE, concurred that the position of the Faculty Senate at the university is that two elections should be authorized by the Board of Trustees: one on the question of collective bargaining and, if the majority of the faculty votes in favor of the proposition, a second election to determine the collective bargaining agent.

Valley said that if the majority of the faculty favors collective bargaining, the elections should be followed by the establishment of guidelines.

He pointed out that educational sessions on collective bargaining were sponsored June 2 and 3 by the University Senate at SIUE, with seven experts brought in to discuss the question.

Suzanne Jacoby, president of the SIUE Chapter of the American Association of University Professors, and Tom Baldwin, president-elect of the Faculty Organization for Collective Bargaining at SIUE, spoke in favor of collective bargaining at the board meeting, while two students — Greg Mudge, chairman of the Steering Committee of the Consumer Organization on Student Tuition, and Bret Cain, president of the SIUE student government — spoke in opposition.

In addition to the SIUC administrators, three SIUC faculty members speaking as individuals and two of five representatives of Carbondale campus organizations pressed opposition to collective bargaining. Speakers from Carbondale who favored collective bargaining included: Larry Taylor, president of the SIUC Faculty Senate; Herbert S. New automotive shop for Venice-Lincoln

Bids opened by the Venice Board of Education at its meeting last week included two submitted by contractors to construct an automotive shop facility at Venice-Lincoln Technical Center.

G. H. Sternberg general contractors of Granite City, on a low bid of $61,862, received a contract to construct a 40x74.8-foot steel building to house the automotive shop at the Venice-Lincoln Center.

The only other bidder, Mark Systems Builder of Edwardsville, submitted a bid of $74,112 for construction of a steel building 40x75 feet. That bid did not include an additional 24-foot concourse slab, which the Sternberg bid listed.

The low bid specified a hydraulic lift and installation, five-inch thick concrete slab floor, passage doors, three overhead doors, water cooler, two restrooms, lighting fixtures, gas-fired boiler and hot water heating system, insulation, sidewalks, gutters and downspouts.

Initially, the Venice board accepted the Sternberg bid on a tentative basis, subject to the deletion of certain items to reduce the total cost to $58,000, the amount of funds available to Venice-Lincoln from federal and state agencies.

The overall cost can be reduced by roughly $4,000 through changing the hot water heating system and boiler to overhead heating units, plus other minor alterations, K Duane Rankin, Venice-Lincoln administrator, informed the board.

Sternberg agreed to the changes during the meeting and his firm's bid was accepted, $61,862. The necessary changes to conform to the center's budgeted funds.

Delivery of the building will be in the next five weeks and an additional 40 days will be required to complete the facility, Sternberg said.

East Bank musical recalls Axtaire-Rogers glamor era

The era of the glamor musicals, starring such notables as Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers, is recaptured in the East Bank Players' production of "Dames at Sea," to be presented this week at the Polish Hall, 826 Greenwood St., Madison.

Curtain-time Thursday and Friday evenings will be at 8:15. A Sunday, July 24, matinee performance will start at 1:15 p.m. Tickets for all performances are available in advance from cast members, costing $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for senior citizens and students. The price will be $3 and $2, respectively, at the door.

Memories may be recalled by some in the audience upon hearing "Choo Choo Honey-moon," "Broadway Baby" and "Let's Have a Quiet Wedding," all songs in the show. Leading the cast will be Jeanne Fuller as "Ruey" and Tony Becerra as "Dick." Both are students at Granite City High School South and have appeared in previous East Bank Players' productions.

He was seen in "Sneaky Fitch" and "Oklahoma," and most recently in "Murder Takes the Stage." She also was in the cast of "Murder Takes." Cally Casey, an original member of the East Bank Players' theatrical troupe, will portray the glamorous "Mona Kent." Casey is a teacher at Parkway Elementary School and serves as treasurer of the East Bank Players' organization. Filling the role of "Captain Courageous," the sailor who broke "Mona Kent's" heart, will be Gene Casey. He also is technical director for all of the East Bank Players' shows. Casey has been with the amateur theater group since its inception. He owns and operates Gene's Audio-Visual Shop. "Joan," a tough-as-nails chorus girl with a heart of gold, is portrayed by Lisa Garcia. She directed "Oklahoma" last year and choreographed most of the dance numbers in the current production. She is employed by the federal government. This autumn, she is planning to direct the Players' rendition of "The King and I." Jim Harrington of Belleville plays "Lucky," best friend of "Dick." He is presently attending Washington University, St. Louis, majoring in the performing arts. Harrington has appeared in "Oklahoma" with the Players. His most recent accomplishment was the lead role in "Bye, Bye Birdie" at Assumption High School, East St. Louis.

SOUTH HIGH SCHOOL students Jeanne Fuller and Tony Becerra, who have the lead roles in "Dames at Sea," a 1930s-style musical to be presented by the East Bank Players Thursday and Friday evenings and Sunday afternoon at the Polish Hall, 826 Greenwood St., Madison. Both have appeared in previous East Bank productions.

Rounding out the cast is another East Bank regular, Jim Penstemon, in the role of the harried "Harry Hennessy," the director.

His theatrical experiences include many previous East Bank productions and performances with groups at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. He also has appeared in amateur films. Barbara Modrusic is making her debut as director of "Dames at Sea." She has appeared in "Zelda" and "Oklahoma" and also is a longtime member of East Bank Players. Supporting performers in "Dames" include Beatrice Gott, Carol McGee, Connie Becerra, Debbie Thiek, Julie Barnes, Sarita Garcia and Karen Fuller. Serving as piano accompanists for the performances are Cindy Hochuli and Mary Peters. In addition to purchases from cast members, tickets also may be obtained in advance of Thursday at Gene's Audio-Visual Shop.

Suggestions saving taxes

Through its suggestion program, the former U.S. Army Aviation Systems Command (AVSCOM), now the U.S. Army Troop Support and Aviation Material Readiness Command (TSARCOM) has realized $1,382,333 in tangible savings so far this year.

The figure is already well over the $1,271,857 goal set for AVSCOM by the Department of Army for 1977.

Overall, the Army is trying to get $77 million in savings from its suggestion program for this year. The program is called "Project 77-77." If other Army commands do as well as AVSCOM, the goal will be easily surpassed, a spokesman has noted.

So far, 17 employees have made suggestions that have each had tangible savings over $5,000. Of these, six have made suggestions saving over $25,000 each.

The command offers cash bonuses for employees who save the government money. This bonus is based on the amount of savings and is determined by an Army scale. For instance, an employee saving $250 is entitled to $25.

Future plans of SIUE outlined

The planning statements section of the Resource Allocation and Management Program (RAMP) for the 1978-79 fiscal year at Southern Illinois University was approved Thursday by the Board of Trustees for submission to the Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE).

The complete RAMP document, including guidelines and new and expanded program requests approved June 9, will be submitted to the SIUE board for approval in September and ultimately to the IBHE.

Each university - SIUE and SIUC - prepared its own planning statement, with separate statements for the School of Dental Medicine of SIUE and the School of Medicine of SIUC.

Each statement consists of two parts: a description of program direction (formerly termed "mission and scope") and a technical plan.

The plan translates the general program directions into a detailed description of goals and objectives. It gives a description of how the institution proposes to meet these commitments, and a basis for obtaining the resource requirements necessary to meet the stated goals and objectives. The technical plan, which presents an inventory of all degree programs, includes a comprehensive description of the existing instructional, research and public service activities of the institution and a statement of what is intended and needed in each of these areas in the next five years.

The SIUC technical plan includes a special analytical study of library affairs, with a request for expansion of the Library Affairs budget in the amount of $724,000 and additional increments totaling $770,000 over the next three years.

New and expanded program requests approved in June total $1,189,295 for SIUE. All of the existing programs except one new program, the master of science in engineering, for which $44,300 is requested.

Specialization in American studies

An extension of the master of arts degree program in English at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, to provide a specialization in American studies, was approved Thursday by the SIU Board of Trustees.

Meeting at the SIU School of Medicine in Springfield, the Board authorized "a reasonable and moderate extension" of the program without creating a new degree title or program.

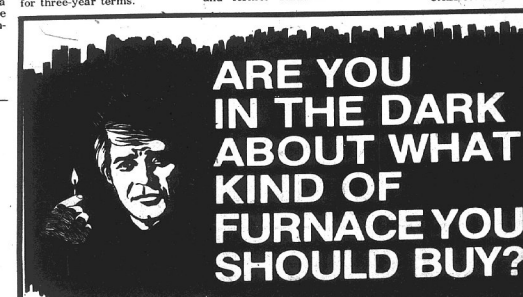

University officers said the specialization was developed in response to a survey of current and former students in the American studies baccalaureate program.

The specialization will serve students as preparation for a Ph.D. program or for teaching in junior colleges, providing the opportunity to achieve a more thorough perspective on the American society.

When fully implemented, the specialization is expected to enroll seven students per year. Resources necessary for the program will come from reallocations within the School of Humanities.

Rev. John Ratcliff new Venice pastor

The Rev. John W. Ratcliff, an ex-Marine and former law enforcement officer, has assumed the duties of pastor at the Venice United Methodist Church, and is in the process of expanding programs of interest for the congregation of all age levels.

With an extensive background in radio and as a substitute high school teacher, Rev. Ratcliff turned his attention and interest to the world of magic as a hobby, and now he and his family are involved in presenting feats of magic for entertainment at church functions and local community affairs.

Rev. Ratcliff, his wife, Sandra and their two children, Sarah, 8, and Sally, 5, combine their talents, using the name of "Sanjo & Co." in magic presentations. The family gave shows under the "Omni" Flying Circus, for the benefit of the underprivileged children of Atlanta, prior to moving to this area.

For his religious education and training, Rev. Ratcliff studied for five years at the Garrett Bible Institute at Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill., and attended Emory University at Atlanta, Ga. He also took undergraduate courses at McKendree College, Lebanon, Ill.

Rev. Ratcliff is a former secretary of the East St. Louis District of Southern Illinois Methodist Association, and has pastored the Shalom (Ill.) United Methodist Church, before accepting the pastorate at the Venice Church.

Rev. Ratcliff is a licensed broadcaster and while residing in Georgia he had radio programs on stations WBAF in Barnesville, Ga., and WPEH in Louisville, Ga. He provided religious segments, news and contemporary music programs on both stations.

Another concept of his radio career was the Barnesville Bandstand, featuring music of the 1940's and 1950's, introduced by Rev. Ratcliff.

"This latter project created the interest of many people, and some of the listeners would call the station for a rap session with me during the broadcast, the minister added.

"I hope to reach many people in the community, the church members, those who have no church affiliation and especially the children who are not attending a church at the present time. With new programs to be instituted in the very near future, at the church, I am sure the area residents will respond with interest and a fresh approach to religion, Rev. Ratcliff added.

Mrs. Ratcliff is the former Sandra Widicus of St. Jacob, Ill.

REV. JOHN RATCLIFF

She graduated from Eastern Illinois University with a B.S. degree in Home Economics and received her masters degree in special education from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

She was department administrator in the Special Education program in the Louisville, Ga., school system, and plans to continue teaching in this area.

"I suffered a heart attack the second week in June and was hospitalized at St. Elizabeth Hospital for some time, but I am now well and ready to accept the responsibilities of pastor of the church," Rev. Ratcliff said.

Table Clinic and Alumni Day, an annual event of student and faculty exhibits on various aspects of dentistry, will be held Wednesday at the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville School of Dental Medicine.

Table clinic presentations will begin at 1 p.m. in the gymnasium of the dental school.

This year, along with some faculty presentations, four stage-III students will present clinics. These students and their clinic titles are: Gerald Dortch of Granite City, "Use of Relaxation in Dental Practice"; David Larson of Rockford, "Growth Rates of the Maxilla During Palatal Expansion"; and Thomas Koertge of Alton, "Prefabricated Moldable Denture Prosthesis: Dimensional Stability."

AN ELECTRIC LINE DOWN MEANS DANGER!

No matter how strongly we build them, power lines can be brought down in heavy storms when tree limbs snap and crash through the lines.

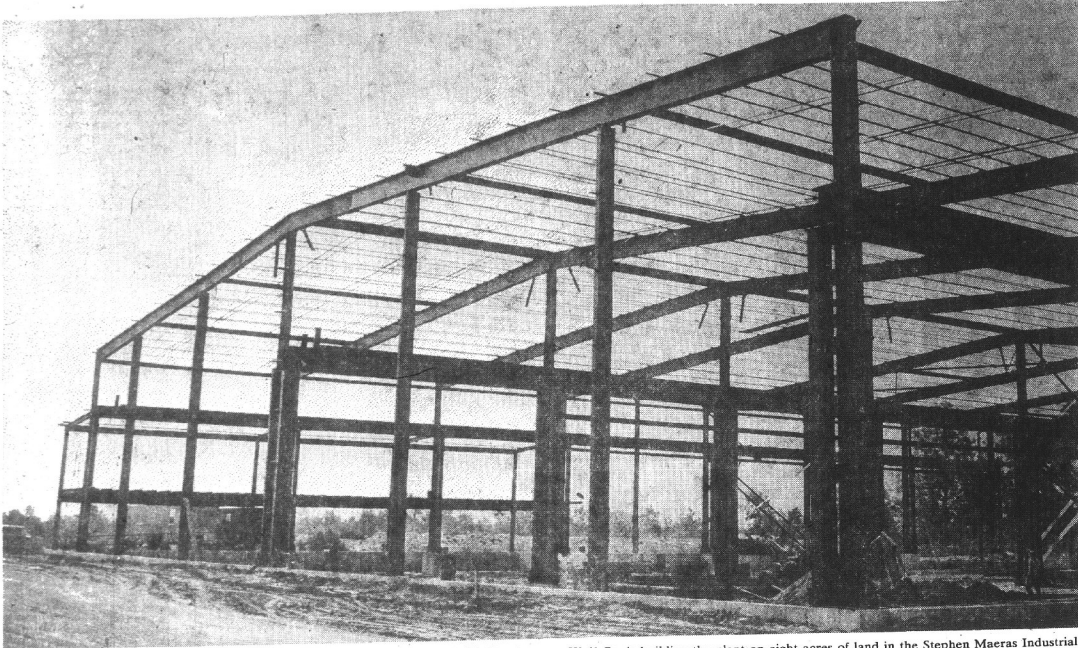

DON'T go near the wire.
DON'T touch anything that the wire is touching, such as a fence, automobile, tree or bush.

DON'T try to jump over the wire. This is no time for athletics.
DO report the fallen wire at once.

DO warn anyone else in the area to stay clear of the fallen wires.
DO get small children to their homes or someplace where they're out of danger!

Please remember—a power line on the ground spells DANGER! In emergencies like this, Illinois Power crews work around the clock to restore service as fast as possible. Until they can take care of the trouble, you take care of yourself. Keep clear. Report the emergency immediately.

Loud muffler leads to arrest on theft charge

Two men were arrested and charged with theft last week, allegedly the result of removal of a battery from a vehicle belonging to Mrs. Charlotte R. Miller of the 2900 block of Oregon Ave.

Mrs. Miller reported that the battery in her auto had been removed and a different one had been put in to replace the original. An auto with a loud muffler was observed in the area, it was learned.

Meanwhile, an auto operated by John M. Gilley, 20, of 2943 Oregon Ave., was stopped by an officer at Indiana Avenue and St. James Street, and the driver was cited for having an improper muffler and driving without a valid registration.

Patrolman Steve Willard, who took the original report from Mrs. Miller, heard about the arrest of Gilley and went out to look at the vehicle, which had been parked at Indiana and St. James.

A "crudely rigged" battery allegedly was found in the car's battery compartment and was identified later as Mrs. Miller's original battery.

Gilley and William E. Hargrove, 18, of 1832 Ferguson Ave., were arrested at a home on Oregon Avenue and were charged with theft.

Smith sales show uptrend

A. O. Smith Corporation Thursday in Milwaukee reported improved sales and profits for the second quarter.

L. B. Smith, chairman and chief executive officer, said sales in the period amounted to $207,584,000, compared with $165,615,000 in the second quarter of 1976.

Profits from continuing operations were $6,918,000, or $1.41 per share, up from $6,626,000, or $1.15 per share, earned in the second quarter a year ago.

For the first six months, Smith said, sales were $389,472,000, with profits of $11,652,000, or $2.38 per share. For the first six months of 1976, the company had sales of $317,677,000 and earnings from continuing operations of $10,871,000, or $2.22 per share.

Substantial increases in sales and profits at A. O. Smith Harvestore Products, Inc., a subsidiary which is the nation's largest producer of automated livestock feeding systems, led the improved performance from the second quarter a year ago.

"Higher volume, improved manufacturing efficiency and intensified marketing efforts helped Harvestore. Products rebound from the break-even point last year to a good profit in the second quarter this year," Smith said.

The subsidiary benefited from some improvement in the livestock market and more normal weather conditions in the farm belt, both of which helped increase demand, he added.

The company's Automotive Division registered a significant upswing in sales in the second quarter compared with last year. Demand across all product lines was up substantially, Smith said. Of particular importance was the increase in sales of the new "down sized" large car separate frames for General Motors' vehicles. A. O. Smith is a principal supplier of these frames to GM.

Rebounding demand for plastic pipe produced by the Reinforced Plastics Division of A. O. Smith-Inland Inc., an affiliate company, helped this operation report a profit in the second quarter compared with a loss last year, Smith said.

A. O. Smith's two other major product lines, electric motors and water heaters, also had higher volume in the quarter compared with 1976.

Uphold janitor clothing code

An appeal by Bill Tope, a student janitor in the University Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville — concerning the dress code for student janitors in the center — was considered Thursday by the SIU Board of Trustees, and the board voted to affirm the position of the university administration.

Meeting in the SIU School of Medicine auditorium in Springfield, the trustees by their action upheld a decision of SIUE President Kenneth A. Shaw, who earlier ruled that the dress code is "rational" and "not discriminatory."

The dress code requires student janitors in the Center to wear long pants, a sport shirt and shoes.

Tope filed a grievance with his immediate supervisor shortly after the dress code was instituted and subsequently appealed the decision of various administrators under the president, all of whom upheld the code.

Tope challenged the validity of the code and alleged that it discriminated against him as a student janitor in the center because student janitors in other units of the university are not subject to a dress code. He also charged that the institution of a dress code amounted to harassment resulting from his public criticism of University Center operations.

The president answered that the creation of a dress code is a legitimate exercise of the executive authority delegated to him.

Dr. Shaw said the code is rational in that it serves the purpose of safety of employees and a minimal standard of appearance by employees in an area of high public visibility.

The president said the code is not discriminatory against Tope because all student janitors in the University Center are required to adhere to the dress code.

Dr. Shaw added that the fact that student janitors in other units have no dress code is irrelevant because their public contact is less than that of janitors in the University Center. In answer to the allegation of harassment, he said no evidence supporting the allegation has been found.

University will honor 2 women

Two internationally renowned women will be honored by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville at the University's summer commencement ceremonies, Sept. 1.

Approval for the awarding of an honorary degree and a distinguished service award to the women was granted Thursday in Springfield at the July meeting of the SIU Board of Trustees.

The honorary degree of doctor of science will be awarded to Mrs. Henriette D. Avram of Washington, D.C., director of the Network Development Office of The Library of Congress.

The distinguished service award will be presented to Mrs. Anne Zimmerman of Chicago, executive administrator of the Illinois Nurses Association and president of the American Nurses' Association.

A native of New York City, Mrs. Avram began her professional career in systems analysis and information research, culminating in her present association with The Library of Congress.

As director of the Machine Readable Cataloging Project, she is believed to have made major contributions in developing strategies for information retrieval and availability. These have had a major impact upon library science, with widespread ramifications into other fields as well, according to SIUE President Kenneth A. Shaw and the University Committee for Honorary Degrees and Distinguished Service Awards.

In 1974, when Mrs. Avram was named for the Federal Woman's Award, it was noted that she had become the single most influential person, both nationally and internationally, in the field of library automation.

The multi-purpose cataloging format which she designed for the interchange of bibliographic information has become a world-wide standard. The resolution recommending the SIUE degree said, in part:

"Because Henriette Avram has addressed herself to one of the greatest needs in education in the recent past, that of information control, she has been a major influence in the conservation of knowledge during a period of exponential growth. Her contribution has made the knowledge explosion controllable, and she has given us a systematic tool with which to turn it to the good use of pressing human needs."

Mrs. Zimmerman is a native of Helena, Mont. The citation recommending her for the distinguished service award states, "During her central dedication has been directed toward the welfare of children."

"In addition to her professional activities, Mrs. Zimmerman has also been involved in a number of volunteer service organizations."

She is honored in this award for her compassion toward humanity, her unwavering professionalism, and her effective leadership in the cause of nursing in the state, the nation and the world."

Mrs. Zimmerman has served as executive secretary of the Montana Nurses Association, associate executive director of the California Nurses Association and as head of the American Nursing Association's Economic Security Program.

She was the first woman president of the Conference of Medical Society Executives of Greater Chicago.

In 1960, Mrs. Zimmerman received national recognition as a participant from Illinois in the White House Conference on Children and Youth. In 1973, she entered the international scene as United States representative at a special world health conference held in Geneva, Switzerland.

Two years later, she was one of two representatives to an International Consultative Conference in Moscow.

In 1975, Mrs. Zimmerman was the recipient of an honorary doctorate of humane letters from Loyola University of Chicago.

Navy Mothers to attend meet

Mrs. Vernest Von Nida, commander of the Quad-City Navy Mothers, Chapter 850, announced seven members will attend a special meeting to be held at Fischer's Restaurant, Belleville, today.

Those to attend are Norma Darnell, Mildred Walker, Irma Manning, Jean Teller, Stella Miller, Margaret Minzes and Mrs. Von Nida.

Plans for the event were completed at a meeting held Thursday evening at the VFW Post 1300.

Fifteen members and three guests, Ardella Darr and Robert and James Thomason, were present for the business session.

The mystery package was won by Mrs. Miller and the evening prize went to Mrs. Verna Spurrier. A social meeting will be held, on July 28, at the VFW Hall, Mrs. Von Nida announced.

Auditions set for "The King and I"

Auditions are planned Saturday, July 30 and Sunday, July 31, for the popular Rodgers and Hammerstein musical, "The King and I," the major production of the East Bank Players in 1977, scheduled for October.

Lisa Garcia, director of the show, said the tryouts will take place from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m., July 30 and July 31, at the Tri-City Area YMCA, 2001 Edison Ave.

Individuals auditioning for speaking roles will be asked to read an excerpt from the script. Those trying out for a singing part will be expected to sing a number from the show.

An additional selection of one's choice also may be brought to the audition.

Children trying out for roles as a princess or a prince should have a nursery rhyme or a short song prepared, Miss Garcia said.

Girls auditioning for parts as the King's wives also should prepare a song for presentation, she noted. Groups of three or less may audition together, the director added.

Many other facets of theater work connected with the production are open to persons interested in programs, scenery, props, makeup, lighting and tickets, among other areas.

Miss Garcia said there are a number of parts for men and women in the musical, including speaking roles and choruses.

July meeting of Hilltoppers

"Things to Be Thankful For" was the subject of a program presented by Mrs. Betty Cooper, at a meeting of the Hilltoppers Club of St. John United Church of Christ.

Members met at the church and also heard a presentation on "Fire and Hazards Around the House" given by Mrs. Helen Priefer.

Mrs. Cooper, president of the organization, was in charge of the business meeting and accepted reports from the secretary and treasurer.

The opening prayer was by Mrs. Catherine Roman followed by group singing of several hymns.

It was announced a card was sent to an ill member and a gift of money was received from Frieda Shaffer for the purchase of cards and stamps.

After the session 25 members and a guest, Loretta Pierson, enjoyed games and refreshments. The next meeting is set for Aug. 9.

Cause for permanent gymnasium

(SIUE News Service)

Facts concerning the urgent need for a permanent physical education facility at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

SIUE is the only major state institution of higher learning in Illinois without a permanent physical education-recreation facility of any kind.

The university is attempting to serve 11,000 students and the larger population of approximately 600,000 citizens in this region, the second most populous in the state.

2-The temporary "bubble gym" at SIUE, completed in 1973, is nearing the end of its projected life span.

Even with the bubble gym included, the university has a total of only 24,196 square feet of physical education-recreation space available—considerably less than any other state university in Illinois, even Governors State University, which has only 3,363 full-time equivalent students.

SIU at Carbondale has 138,849 square feet of physical education-recreation space; Western Illinois, 149,756; Chicago Circle, 152,454.

Illinois State, 155,668; Eastern Illinois, 206,732; Northern Illinois, 216,170; and the University of Illinois, 242,960.

3-The lack of space has hampered the local university's efforts to develop a full-fledged intercollegiate athletic program for women.

4-Both men's and women's intercollegiate basketball teams are forced to train and play their "home" games in area high school gymnasiums, resulting in little student interest, either as spectators or participants.

5-Because of the lack of facilities, the university's athletic program cannot include a number of indoor sports such as gymnastics and swimming.

6-The absence of adequate physical education-recreation facilities on campus means students must seek other places in the region to meet their recreational needs. This shortens their time on campus, and works against their overall intellectual and social growth.

Studies have proved that students will make better use of academic resources on campus if the environment is so attractive that students are encouraged to stay and make maximum use of available physical resources.

The students at SIUE have demonstrated their determination to have a physical education and recreation facility by providing their own funds (Student Welfare and Recreation Fund) for construction and operation of the temporary bubble gym.

7-The lack of a permanent physical education-recreation facility damages the image of education-recreation space. The general public views this as a glaring deficiency on an otherwise attractive and hospitable campus.

8-This region desperately needs a place where the university population and the citizens of the surrounding area can gather for athletic and other cultural events.

9-Senate Bill 314, which would appropriate $190,000 in planning funds for a permanent physical education facility, has been approved by the Senate and the House of Representatives. The Bill has been forwarded to Governor James R. Thompson for his consideration.

Women's real goals misinterpreted

To the Editor:

Women in Illinois, after attending the annual Illinois Women's Year Conference in Bloomington, I find very powerful voices recognizing themselves as the feminist movement, being funded by $100,000 of all taxpayers' monies, and it frightens me.

The purpose of the IWY Conference was to exchange ideas from women all over the state of Illinois to identify the barriers that prevent women from participating fully and equally in all aspects of national life.

This plan is fine for those who agree with IWY's goals.

Four of their top priorities are government-funded abortion clinics, government-controlled child care centers, homosexuality, and ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment.

At no time during the conference did I see the American flag or hear a prayer.

Although many organizations were advised about the IWY Conference, I believe some organizations were not properly made aware of the importance of this conference.

Those organizations neglected were the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, Right for Life, Eagle Forum, NOW, WWW, and Stop ERA, to name a few.

Because I was in the minority conference, I was called openly "the enemy," among some other choice words I'll not put here.

The Illinois IWY Conference, in my opinion, did more harm than good in promoting the cause for women.

The workshops and the microphones were controlled by prejudiced members.

We that do not agree with IWY resolutions are told we do not really have women's interests in mind.

In fact, we are labeled as members of a secret organization of anti-democratic, reactionary forces funded by such organizations as the John Birch Society.

It is my contention that the results of the IWY Conference do not speak for the majority of Illinois women.

It is my sincere belief that the IWY of Illinois was a fiasco and a waste of the taxpayers' monies.

Women, where do you stand regarding Homosexuality? ENAA?

A very loud and strong voice is being heard in favor of these issues.

The IWY says this is what we women of Illinois want. Do we?

If we do not, let our voices be heard. We have minority rule, and we are paying for it.

Power vital due to building designs, refrigeration needs

"Murphy's law" is said to assert that if anything can go wrong, it will—such as New York City's electric power supply. But there is something mighty wrong if such an essential element of living is so vulnerable and uncertain.

Just as a gasoline shortage is a much bigger threat now than in World War II, due to reduced transportation alternatives and increased commuting distances, electricity is no longer a luxury—as it was perceived in the early years after it became available—but a vital necessity.

Many indispensable depend on a steady power supply—gasoline service station pumps, elevators, refrigeration, lighting, traffic controls and even law enforcement.

Many building designs now make it impossible to function normally or safely without air-conditioning and lights, in contrast to eras when windows were more numerous. When power is lacking, people suffer and die.

While we tend to be critical of the New York power utility for not reacting more quickly to lightning damage and salvaging power in at least part of its large geographic area, it is being recalled that there has been intense, environmentally-related opposition to the construction of added electric generating facilities.

Quad-Cityans have not had to experience blackouts such as those occurring on the East Coast in November 1965 and July 1977, but this region and state have encountered a similar obstacle—strewn, delay-plagued path toward building needed, affordable new power plants.

Independent announces candidacy for a key elective office

This weekend's announcement that Emil Toffant of Madison is seeking the Democratic sheriff nomination assures added interest in the March 1978 primary, even though formal "choosing up" of sides may not take place until November or December.

His potential opponent also is a former Madison city policeman, Captain Toffant subsequently had a 24-year career with the Illinois State Police, while Sheriff John Maeras moved on to election successes as sheriff and county treasurer.

Toffant would be 64 years old before he could begin a four-year term, and some may accuse him of opportunism in making his announcement in the midst of a federal grand jury investigation of actions and allegations by deputies under Maeras' command.

On the other hand, Toffant earned wide praise for effective leadership as a state officer and thus is seen by many as a formidable and much-needed candidate; he has long been viewed as a natural for the sheriff office "someday." If that someday ever is going to arrive, the new candidate makes clear, he thinks it ought to be 1978.

Lottery becoming less profitable to the state government

Guest comment by Alton Telegraph—Last year's Illinois state lottery revenues fell off $53 million, compared with those of the previous year, the fiscal year ended June 30.

That was about a one-third loss. That isn't all.

Those were the gross revenues. The state's share, after all the huffing, puffing, and public promotion of the game, came to but $48.7 million this compared with a much-boasted $75.9 million the previous fiscal period.

Supt. Richard W. Carlson, who recently assumed command of the lottery, says the system is just "too complicated and takes too much time." At the same time he urged investigation of grocery chains' "gimmick operations competing with the state operation."

That's a way of saying vain efforts to promote the lottery and "sucker" a public already disabused with the whole scheme are taking more time and expense than anticipated by the profound thinkers who dreamed up the system and promoted it as the public treasury's rescuer.

They should have favored the lottery only added pressure in favor of broadening an appeal to the public's "sucker" element by giving a legal face to one variety of gambling.

Note that the next move in the legislature was to attempt passing a bill licensing privately operated numbers games.

Many health professionals not smoking

(U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare)

American health professionals—physicians, dentists, pharmacists and nurses—are increasingly accepting their responsibility to lead the public away from cigarette smoking.

New figures show that only 21 per cent of physicians, 28 per cent of dentists and 28 per cent of pharmacists smoke. Nurses are smoking at the slightly higher rate of 39 per cent.

Health professionals are increasingly optimistic that those who want to quit can do so. Recent data seems to confirm this belief.

Cigarette smoking among adult males declined from 52 per cent in 1966 to 39 per cent in 1975 and smoking among women declined from 34 per cent to 29 per cent during the same period.

The attitudes and behavior of the health professionals have been reviewed in a study—Survey of Health Professionals: Smoking and Health, 1975—by the National Clearinghouse for Smoking and Health, in collaboration with the National Cancer Institute.

It involved 5,000 respondents from each of the four health professions. Members of the same groups had been studied between 1967 and 1969.

The 1967-69 studies showed 30 per cent of physicians, 34 per cent of dentists and pharmacists and 37 per cent of nurses smoke cigarettes.

The current report shows that a growing majority of health professionals link smoking to a lung cancer, emphysema and heart disease.

In increasing numbers, they are expressing the belief that it is their responsibility to act as examples for the general public by not smoking themselves.

Ninety per cent of physicians, 88 per cent of dentists, 87 per cent of nurses and 73 per cent of pharmacists agree with this position.

The majority agree it is their responsibility to convince people to stop smoking, and many believe this role should include a more active role in speaking to lay groups about smoking.

Even health professionals who still smoke solidly endorse their role as exemplary figures, and in every group were more likely to report that they never smoke in front of patients.

Three of the four groups are making substantial strides toward following their own advice and a growing number of physicians, 61 per cent of dentists and 55 per cent of pharmacists quit by 1975.

Nurses lag behind the other health professionals in "kicking the habit" but are quitting at a slightly higher rate than other females.

In 1975, of those women who had smoked, 30 per cent of nurses quit, compared with 34 per cent of all female adults and 30 per cent of those who work outside the home. Comparisons are made with both groups because more women smoke than men.

The percentage of nurses who still smoke is higher than that of other women; 39 per cent of nurses, 34 per cent of working females and 29 per cent of the adult female population still smoke.

However, the survey shows fewer younger nurses smoke than do those 40 years of age and older—34 per cent compared with 42 per cent.

A summary of the 1975 survey is available from the National Clearinghouse for Smoking and Health, Center for Disease Control, Atlanta, Ga. 30333. Information also is available from the Office of Cancer Communications, National Cancer Institute, Bethesda, Md. 20814.

Recount trustees' votes impartially

To the Editor:

Why are the "now sealed" Nameoki Township officials—But not necessarily elected—afraid of having the votes recounted by impartial people?

Let's count them including the trustees.

Let's see who the people really did elect, and let the chips fall where they may.

MRS. HELEN M. HAWKINS
Nameoki Town Board trustee candidate

Downstate's schools, roads slighted

To the Editor:

The legislative session ended at 4 a.m. on Saturday, July 2, in a turmoil. Now after a few days away from Springfield, after days in which to allow emotions to subside, I will try in the coming weeks to analyze what happened and why it happened.

The biggest political deal in Illinois in the last five years occurred in May when Governor Thompson agreed with Mayor Blandine of Chicago to build the south leg of the Dan Ryan Expressway.

This will mean $1.1 billion of federal money and $120 million of state money for the Chicago urban area.

In order to finance this extremely controversial highway, the Republican leadership, supported by Chicago Democrats, introduced legislation that will allow Illinois to sell $150 million worth of transportation bonds.

Of this, $100 million goes to the Chicago urbanized area and $50 million goes to the other 101 counties.

Obviously, everyone in the state outside of Chicago is being shortchanged with this deal.

To add further insult, the Republican sponsored the House Transportation Committee, where numerous questions could have been asked, and came directly to the House floor.

Over 70 amendments were offered and second reading but, after a pretense of fairness, 40 amendments were tabled without debate.

The bill then went to a conference committee, where a been adopted. For example, Amendment 44 "provided that such funds ($150 million) shall not be expended for the acquisition or condemnation of any real property held in trust unless the name of each person holding a beneficial interest in such trust is disclosed."

Hopefully, this would have prevented politicians and their friends from benefiting from privileged information and secret land trusts.

Disregarding the House rules, the bill was moved to third reading, voted on without debate, and passed by a 100-0 roll call with 110 votes, three more than required.

Chicago will get the road and the people Downstate will pay for it.

It was a strange combination of legislators that voted for HB 2414, but they were primarily Republicans loyal to the governor and Democrats loyal to Chicago.

Most political deals involve a quid-pro-quo. Thus, in return for a billion dollars in road construction, Governor Thompson received support for his budget from the Chicago Democrats.

This support climaxed with the last vote of the session.

The appropriation from the common school fund to the State Board of Education—to be distributed to all schools in the State—passed out of the House at $202,000,000, $10 million above the governor's request.

In the Senate, an additional $20 million was added.

The bill then went to a conference committee, where a compromise could be worked out. The committee members were appointed by the Republican leadership and Chicago Democrats.

The legislation, HB 688, came out of conference committee $2 million below the governor's request. Remember, it went into the committee $30 million above this request.

It then came to the House floor, where it needed 107 votes to pass. Many legislators had left by the hour of 4 a.m. and those of us left knew that the required votes were not present.

We rightfully demanded an oral roll call.

At least five legislators, when recognized to speak to the issue, immediately asked for an oral roll call. Ten of us signed a written request and gave it to the presiding speaker.

We were ignored. The rules were flagrantly violated.

Legislators who had long departed were voted by others. The electronic scoreboard quickly reached 109 votes.

The bill was declared passed and we adjourned, all within a few seconds.

Downstate schools will receive less money than they should. The roads are going to Chicago and it appears that the governor is trying to get to the White House.

Political deals are a part of life. Compromise makes democracy work. I only wish the governor would not make his deals at our expense.

Old Style
Brewed in a traditional
Old World way called Kraeusening
From the very first day our brewery was opened, Heilemann's Old Style has been fully krausened, naturally carbonated, in the traditional Old World way.
Krausening is the most natural way to brew beer and the most expensive. Most expensive because krausening takes more time. A pure brewing, double-brewing art that Old Style insists on using to this very day.
When you brew a beer once you've got good beer, but when you brew a beer twice you've got a great, light beer and that in essence is what krausening is all about.
Sure, we could use short cuts but we don't, and we won't. Because at Old Style we don't aim to make the most beer, only the best.
That's why Old Style has been fully, that's fully, krausened, naturally carbonated since 1853. Try Old Style.
Taste the difference Krausening makes.
